

Addiction Studies, CAS

Academic Year 2024-2025

Program Description:

The Certificate of Applied Science in Addiction Studies offered by Mountwest enables students to develop essential skills for growth as helping professionals. The focus of the program is understanding the roles of different practitioners and serving those who struggle with substance-related and addictive disorders. Students will learn theories and techniques of professional counseling, social work, and the broader human services. Students will become familiar with the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual for Mental Health Disorders (DSM-V-TR) and be able to recognize formal diagnoses.

In West Virginia, the West Virginia Certification Board for Addiction and Prevention Professionals (WVCBAPP) governs the certification of the Alcohol and Drug Counselor (ADC) credential. This credential requires six years and six thousand supervised hours of practice to obtain. The CAS will help students determine a professional path forward in the helping professions.
